HEATHER TARR

Head Coach (15th Season)

When hearing the words "Husky Softball", one name comes to mind—Heather Tarr. A four–year letterwinner at Washington, Tarr helped lead the Huskies to a second place finish at the omen's College World Series in 1996. One year later she and the team finished thi d. A 1998 graduate, Tarr was a three–year member of the Pac–10 All–Academic team (1995–1997), a three–year member of the Pac–10 All–Conference team (1995–1997) and the named to the NFCA All–West Region Team (1997). In 1998 she worked on staff as an undergraduate assistant coach, helping the Huskies to a third–place finish at the 998 Women's College World Series.

Tarr's legacy has grown far beyond her time playing in the purple and gold uniform, beginning when she was named the head coach of the program in the fall of 2004. Few can say they have been part of a program since its infant years. Even fewer can say they returned as head coach and guided the program to its fi st national championship.

Through honoring tradition, trust and dedication, Tarr has made Washington softball one of the most elite college softball programs in the country.

The accomplishments are evident for Tarr. A national championship, 24 All–Americans, three Olympians and 584 wins.

Through honoring tradition, trust and dedication, Tarr has made Washington softball one of the most elite college softball programs in the country.

In Tarr's fi st season at the UW, she led the Huskies to the Super Regional, falling one game short of advancing to the WCWS. The Huskies' season came to an end when they lost a three–game series to eventual National Champion Michigan in Ann Arbor and finished the ear with a no. 14 national ranking. Seven Huskies earned All–Pac–10 honors, including Kristen Rivera, who was named Co–Pac–10 Player of the Year. Rivera also became the Huskies' fi st–ever four–time All–American, earning First Team honors as a catcher. Three Washington players earned All–Pacific egion honors and three were named to the Pac–10 All–Academic team for their successes in the classroom. Washington finished the season with a 35–22 reco d. The Huskies tallied 13 wins over opponents ranked in the top–25, including victories over No. 1 Michigan, No. 3 California and No. 4 Stanford.

Four seasons later, in 2009, dreams came true for Tarr and her Huskies.

After leading the program to its 16th–consecutive postseason berth, Tarr and her team gutted out the longest game in program history in the NCAA Regional final, de eating UMass 6–1 on the Minutewomen's home field in 5 innings. The Huskies then swept through the best–of–three Super Regionals over Georgia Tech in Atlanta before the three–week road trip concluded in Oklahoma City with the hardware.

In their ninth Women's College World Series appearance and the second in Tarr's fi st fi e seasons, the Huskies won their fi st two games at the World Series before falling to Georgia in the fi st semifinal game. Once again the Huskies sh wed their grit, defeating Georgia that night to advance to the championship series, where they dominated the Gators to bring home the title in two games. The Huskies finished the 2009 season a op both the NFCA and ESPN.com polls for the fi st time in program history. Their 51 wins were the fourth–most in program history and the most for a Tarr–led Husky team until the 2018 team's 52.

Following the 2009 season, Tarr and her staff were named the Pacific egion Coaching Staff of the Year and the NFCA National Coaching Staff of the Year. Individual honors also came pouring in, as Danielle Lawrie was named the USA Softball Collegiate Player of the Year and the Honda Award winner, the fi st Husky softball player to ever earn such honors. Lawrie and senior Ashley Charters were named First Team All–Americans and were each named to their respective national teams following the season, with Charters being named to Team USA and Lawrie re–joining Canada.

Washington swept its way into the championship series, winning all eight postseason games en route to a matchup with Florida State. The Huskies would come up just short of a national championship, finishing the ear ranked second in the country.

2018 started off impressively, with Tarr's Huskies rattling off 28 consecutive wins to start the season. That earned Washington nine weeks as the nation's number one–ranked team, their fi st appearance at the top of the polls since 2010. Washington would stay in the top fi e all season.

A balanced team with the nation's 24th–highest scoring offense and second–best ERA, Washington brought home three All–American awards, seven All–Pac–12 awards, and seven Pac–12 All–Academic awards.

Tarr's never–ending respect for Husky Softball separates the program from the rest. She makes her team want to be better players. Each year, Tarr and the rest of the coaching staff create a theme for the season. The theme is used as a road map for the year. Only the team knows the theme each season, creating a special camaraderie amongst the athletes and coaches.

J.T. D'AMICO

Assistant Coach (11th Season)

For assistant coach J.T. D'Amico, the idea is simple—development never ends; the process; improve. Six words. Six words are what define his attitude towards the sport of softball. In D'Amico's eyes, there is always room for improvement.

In his eleventh year with Washington, D'Amico helped coach one of the nation's best defenses, headlined by two Pac–12 All–Defensive selections. D'Amico has coached two Husky shortstops to Pac–12 Defensive Player of the Year awards in the last decade after Sis Bates took home the award in 2018.

Four words are what define his attitude towards the sport of softball. In D'Amico's eyes, there is always room for improvement.

D'Amico joined the Huskies in 2009, the same season the Huskies hoisted the hardware in Oklahoma City for the fi st time. He was a member of the staff that was awarded the National Coaching Staff of the Year by the National Fastpitch Coaches Association that same year.

Prior to joining the softball community, D'Amico served as the head baseball coach at Eastlake High School in Sammamish, Wash. from 1998–2008. During that time, ten of Eastlake's players were drafted professionally and over 20 went on to play at the collegiate level. While serving as the high school's head coach, D'Amico also spent time as an associate scout with the Atlanta Braves.

Tarr brought D'Amico to the coaching staff in hopes that his competitive, fast–paced, baseball–coaching style would improve the Huskies' game. His knowledge and competitive nature paid off later that season when the team won the national title.

D'Amico's primary responsibility for the Huskies is serving as the defensive coordinator. The Husky defense has seen some of their highest fielding pe - centages under his guidance. D'Amico has coached two Pac–12 Defensive Players of the Year as well as three members of the Pac–12 All–Defensive Team in the two years of that awards existence.

In 2013 D'Amico was named the head coach of the National Pro Fastpitch leagues USSSA Florida Pride and led them to the Cowles Cup Championship in a thrilling three–game series win over the Chicago Bandits.

LANCE GLASOE

Assistant Coach (9th Season)

Glasoe oversaw one of the best pitching staffs in the nation in 2018, with the group finishing second in the country in ERA en route to a Women's College World Series championship round appearance. The Huskies had two All–American pitchers for the third time in program history as the staff combined for 31 shutouts, 470 strikeouts, and a 0.84 WHIP.

During his 2009–2014 tenure as Huskies' pitching coach, Glasoe mentored Danielle Lawrie, Kaitlin Inglesby and Bryana Walker into Women's College World Series pitchers. The UW coaching staff earned National Coaching Staff of the Year honors during the 2009 season.

In his fi st season, Glasoe was tasked with working with one of the most talented arms in the nation in Lawrie. That year she finished 42–8 with a 0. 7 earned–run average and 521 strikeouts in 352 innings en route to the National Championship.

Since then, Glasoe has helped Husky pitchers earn ten All–Pac–12 awards and six All–American honors. Husky pitchers have earned National Player of the Week honors 11 times and Pac–12 Player of the Week honors 24 times during Glasoe's tenure, including six such conference honors for current senior Taran Alvelo.

Glasoe has coached in the high school and college levels, coaching Sumner High School to three consecutive state finals appearances, t o league championship titles and a state academic championship title. Glasoe's extraordinary work at the high school level led him to being named the Tacoma News Tribune All–Area Coach of the Year in 2005 and 2006 as well as being named Seamount League Coach of the Year in 2006 and South Puget Sound League Coach of the Year in 2005.

In 2018 Glasoe oversaw a pitching staff with a combined ERA of 1.18 and two All-Americans.

In 2014, Glasoe took the reins of the Pacific Lutheran University, where he had previously been the pitching coach from 2006–2008. He finished his head coaching tenure at PLU with a career record of 45–33 over two seasons.

WHITNEY JONES

Assistant Coach (2nd Season)

After graduating from Washington in 2014, Whitney Jones returned to the Huskies in 2018, ready to repeat the success she saw as a player at UW. Jones, who went to one Women's College World Series as a player at Washington, helped the Huskies back to the game's biggest stage in her fi st year as a coach at UW.

Jones worked primarily with Washington's outfiel - ers in 2018, leading a group that hit .339 with almost 200 combined runs and RBI. Washington's primary trio of outfielde s commited only fi e errors all season as well under Jones' tutelage and made a number of incredible plays, including two diving, game saving, catches by Trysten Melhart at the World Series.

Immediately after graduating, the two–time Academic All–Pac–12 performer earned her Master's at Tulsa, earning strength coach certific - tion as well. After that, it was off to the high school coaching ranks. Jones led Garfield High School o the WIAA Softball State Championships in her only year as head coach, the fi st time in history Garfield has advanced to the state playoffs. She was named Coach of the Year for her work at Garfield as ell.

While playing for the Huskies, Jones was a part of four Super Regional teams and a Women's College World Series team, helping Washington take third in the nation in 2013.

Jones led Garfield High School to the WIAA Softball State Championships in her only year as head coach.

The 2014 All–Pac–12 honoree spent most of her time roaming the outfield and is n w tasked with coaching that position group.

As a player, Jones hit .336 her senior season, committing just one error in her 51 games played while putting up 30+ runs and RBI. Jones also went 14–for–16 in stolen bases that year and hit 19 extra–base hits.

LIBERTY BRACKEN Academic Advisor, 9th season

A native of the Seattle area, Bracken began working for the Huskies in 2009. She earned both her undergraduate and Master's degrees from UW, working in Student–Athlete Academic Services throughout that time. Bracken earned her Bachelor's in Psychology and her Master's in Intercollegiate Athletic Leadership at Washington's College of Education.

While in high school at Blanchet, Bracken compete in triple jump, the 200m, and the 4x200m relay for the track team.

JAQUI CARRELL Athletic Trainer, 4th season

Carrell fi st began working at UW in 2014 after attending graduate school at the University of Minnesota. An Indiana native, Carrell earned her Bachelor's from Purdue University.

In addition to serving as the athletic trainer for the softball team, Carrell also runs the sports medicine internship program for the Huskies and is an injury spotter for the football team. She has specialty training in graston, SASTM, kinesio taping, and cupping.

NIC HIGGINS Strength Coach, 2nd season

Before coming to Seattle, Higgins was the Assistant Director of Sports Performance at DePaul University, where he oversaw the strength and conditioning programs for women's soccer, men's golf, and track and field. He also spent two and a half years at the University of Texas.

Higgins earned a Master's of Science in Exercise Science and Health Promotion from California University of Pennsylvania in 2013. He earned his Bachelor's from the University of Wisconsin–La Crosse.

AMY LEFURGY Director of Operations, 7th season

LeFurgy enters her seventh season as the Director of Operations for the UW softball team. Prior to joining the staff, she worked at Elmhurst College in Illinois as Assistant Soccer Coach and Marketing Assistant.

LeFurgy assists the team with travel, budget oversight, scheduling and video operations, among other duties.

Originally from West Lafayette, Indiana, LeFurgy earned her Bachelor's degree in communications from Elmhurst College in 2006. In 2012 she earned her Master's in Intercollegiate Athletic Leadership from the University of Washington.

RACHAEL DUNN Learning specialist, 4th season

A graduate of the University of Washington, Dunn hails from Rhode Island originally. She earned her undergraduate degree in English from Rhode Island College, then came to Seattle to get her Master's in English from UW in 2015. She is in her fourth season with the Huskies, serving as the learning specialist for the team. Dunn also works with the women's basketball, football, and track and field eams at UW.

GARY MCGUIRE Equipment manager, 20th season

Since joining UW in 1999, McGuire has worked with gymnastics, cross country, track, and softball. Before joining the Huskies, McGuire worked as the equipment manager with the Seattle Sounders and Tacoma Stars soccer clubs as well as working in the Seattle Mariners visiting clubhouse.

McGuire served as US Soccer's fi st national team equipment manager, working at the 1990 World Cup and Women's World Championship in China.

He lives with his wife, Karen, in Bellevue and has two adult children, Brittney and Nathan. McGuire enjoys traveling, the Sounders, and independent, local craft beer.

ERIN O'CONNELL Sport Administration/SWA, 3rd season

This will be O'Connell's third season working with the softball team at Washington. Before joining the Huskies, O'Connell served as the Director of Athletics at Seattle Pacific f om 2009 until 2015. She was also the President and Chair of the U.S. Rowing Board of Directors from 2014 to 2016.

A graduate of UW, O'Connell also worked for seven years as the assistant women's rowing coach for the Huskies. She earned her Master's Degree in Physical Education with an emphasis in Sports Administration from Seattle Pacific niversity.

MATT SWANSON Sports Information, 2nd season

Swanson comes to the Huskies after working two years at the University of the Pacific. While there, he se ved as the media contact for a number of sports, including field hoc ey, baseball, and swim.

Swanson earned his undergraduate degree from Western Oregon University in 2013. He earned his Master's in Sports Management from Gonzaga University in 2018.

He is a native of Kent, Washington and has also worked for the Seattle Mariners, Seattle Thunderbirds, and Seattle Storm.

2019 SEASON PREVIEW

With two straight Women's College World Series trips, including last year's trip to the championship round, the Washington Huskies are ready to fight their way back to Oklahoma City once again. All three of last year's All–Americans are back, joined by nine newcomers.

In all, this year's Huskies have nine NFCA All–Region and seven All–Conference honors between them, including four All–Pac–12 First Team awards. Washington has three players that have earned conference Player of the Year awards, two that have been named finalists or the USA Softball National Collegiate Player of the Year award, and three NFCA Freshman of the Year finalists

Back from last year is the bulk of the pitching staff that finished second in the nation in ERA and shut out 31 opponents. 87% of last year's innings pitched are back as All–Americans Taran Alvelo and Gabbie Plain return to the circle. Washington's 1.18 team ERA was its third–best in program history and the Huskies will look for their 15th season with an ERA under 2.00 this year.

The offense does not want for talent either, headlined by All–American Sis Bates. Ten hitters return from last year's top–25 scoring offense, joined by seven heralded newcomers. Also returning to action is Morganne Flores, who missed 2018 with injury after leading the Pac–12 in RBI in 2017.

Almost half of last year's runs scored are back this year, as are 79 extra–base hits. Five of Washington's most common nine starters return to the team for 2019.

While Washington graduated a stellar crop of six seniors, nine total newcomers join the team this season, including two transfers. Washington will look to seniors Taran Alvelo, Amirah Milloy, Rachel Ogasawara, and Brittany Werre to provide leadership to a young team ready to continue the long run of Husky success.

This year's Huskies have nine NFCA All–Region and seven All–Conference honors between them, including four All–Pac–12 First Team awards.

Washington has won 50+ games each of the last two seasons and will try to make it four consecutive years reaching at least Super Regionals. With a strong group of returners welcoming in talented new blood, Washington has set its sights on its 26th consecutive Regionals appearance and beyond.

DAWGS DOWN UNDER

The season kicked off early for Washington this year as the Huskies headed down under, visiting Australia on the program's fi st–ever foreign tour this December. Washington was able to visit the homeland of sophomore Gabbie Plain and play multiple games against some of Australia's finest in the Softball New South Wales program.

"This trip was a once–in–a–lifetime experience for the women of our program," said Heather Tarr. "We learned a lot about each other on the trip, both competitively and personally. Having the chance to play games in the stadium where the 2000 Olympics were played against a competitive New South Wales team gave us a good look at what our 2019 team will bring.

"We pitched well, played solid defense, and found ways to score runs against some great pitchers. The other travels during the trip, from seeing the Great Barrier Reef, to exploring downtown Sydney, to spending time with Gabbie's family, were amazing highlights."

The trip began with the Huskies visiting Cairns and the Great Barrier Reef, seeing one of the Seven Natural Wonders of the World as the fi st step in their immersion into Australian culture. Washington would also visit with local artists as part of the team's course on Australia and its history.

After traveling to Blacktown, the Huskies got back to what they do best, playing two games against Softball NSW. The teams played at the Blacktown International Sportspark, which played host to the last Olympic softball games in 2000. Washington was able to see the different style of softball played in Australia and face off against some of the country's elite talent, including multiple national team members.

Washington took the program's first foreign tour to Australia in December 2018. Playing on the same field that hosted the 2000 Olympics.

The tour concluded in Sydney, where the Huskies were able to explore Australia's biggest city. The team attended a cricket match, practiced beneath the St. Mary's Cathedral, and had a team meal atop Sydney Tower, among other outings.

This amazing journey served as the fi st step of the 2019 season for the Huskies, who will kick off the regular season abroad as well, playing in the Puerto Vallarta Collegiate Challenge.

THE BATTERY

Taran Alvelo and Gabbie Plain are the first Husky pitching duo to net All–America honors in the same season since Jaime Graves and Jennifer Spediacci did so in 2000.

A formidable duo in the circle sees even more reinforcements this year, as All–Americans Taran Alvelo and Gabbie Plain welcome Big East Pitcher of the Year Pat Moore and 2017 Seattle Times Player to Watch Mac Schulz to the staff. That group will try to improve on a year that saw Washington finish second in the nation in ERA at 1.18 and fi th in strikeouts with 470.

With a All–Pac–12 First Team honor already under her belt, 2018 saw Alvelo improve even more, finishing ourth in the Pac–12 in ERA and fi th in strikeouts. Alvelo was undefeated over her fi st 16 appearances and started the year on a 31.1–inning scoreless streak.

Alvelo was showered with accolades, earning NFCA All–Region First Team, All–Pac–12 First Team, and was named a USA Softball Collegiate Player of the Year finalist, in addition o her All–American award.

With 76 wins in her career, Alvelo has a chance to become just the third Husky in program history to win 100 games. She could very well finish her pl y-ing career second in UW history in strikeouts and record her third consecutive year with over 200.

Plain's fi st season of college softball couldn't have gone much better, the freshman led the Pac–12 in ERA and fell just one earned run short of an ERA under 1.00, a mark only three pitchers in the nation reached. In April, she became the second Husky freshman ever to throw a perfect game, retiring every batter she faced against Utah.

Plain carried a 28.1–inning scoreless streak during 2018. She was named an NFCA Freshman of the Year finalist in addition o NFCA All–Region, All–Pac–12 First Team, and Pac–12 All–Freshman.

After winning Big East Pitcher of the Year honors as a freshman, DePaul transfer Pat Moore joins the Huskies for her sophomore year. Moore led the Big East in ERA last year and was second in strikeouts, leading DePaul to a conference championship. Opponents hit only .204 against Moore her freshman year.

After a third–place finish at the sta e championships with Monroe, Schulz joins the Huskies in the circle. She has been recognized by USA Today's Performers of the Week after striking out 29 batters over two games and shone at the PGF Surf Camp.

The Husky pitching staff will be helped along by some powerful bats behind the dish, with Emma Helm and Rachel Ogasawara welcoming back 2017 Pac–12 RBI leader Morganne Flores after the junior missed 2018 with injury. Morgan Allen will also see time at catcher.

Helm did the bulk of the catching work for Washington as a freshman last year, socking nine extra–base hits and drawing 28 walks on the year. The lefty carried a .365 OBP and had a streak of three straight games with multiple RBI.

Morganne Flores led the Huskies on both sides of the plate, knocking 74 RBI in 2017. She returns after sitting the 2018 season due to injury.

Once again providing heady leadership, Ogasawara earned 17 starts in 2018 as well. She had a two–double game in Las Vegas to show off her bat. Behind the plate, the Hawaiian made only one error all year, good for a .993 fielding pe centage that was tops on the team (min. 15 chances).

Flores returns to action this year after missing 2018 with injury. A redshirt junior, Flores has two NFCA All–Region awards under her belt and, in 2017, led the Pac–12 in RBI with 74, the third–most in UW history. That mark was helped along by two multi–homer games and a seven–RBI performance against Utah in the Regionals.

THE INFIELD

Sis Bates—who was named Pac–12 Defensive Player of the Year and First Team All–American in 2018—led the team last season in average and OBS.

Washington's rock–solid middle infield is back or another go–around: every single start at second base and shortstop are back from 2018. All–American Sis Bates, Taryn Atlee, Nawai Kaupe, and Kaija Gibson bring plenty of continuity, with Kaupe and Gibson also playing in the outfield. Also back in the infield are the dange ous bats of Morgan Allen, Noelle Hee, and Brittany Werre. That group adds three important freshman, SilentRain Espinoza, Ari Quiñones, and Megan Vandegrift, to round out the team.

After one of the most impressive freshman years in the nation, Bates improved even more, winning her fi st All–American award and being named a finalist for the USA Softball Player of the Year award. Bates earned the Pac–12 Defensive Player of the Year award and carries Washington's best career fielding percentage ever by a shortstop into her junior year.

Offensively, Bates started the year with a 15–game hitting streak and never let up, ending the year hitting .389/.471/.580. The sophomore scored 53 runs and was one of two Huskies with 75+ hits on the year, giving her 141 in just two years. Bates had 20 multi–hit games on the year and had 24 extra–base hits.

Bates' double–play partner Atlee is also back for Washington. In her fi st year with the Huskies, Atlee hit .241 with fi e multi–RBI games. Atlee went 33 games without making an error at one point in the year, providing excellent defense all year at second base.

Allen acclimated to collegiate softball well as a freshman, scoring a run in her fi st game and reaching base via walk in her next appearance. Allen would score three times in her fi e games.

Hee was another of Washington's power threats as she launched seven home runs as a freshman. Hee hit .273 and slugged .488 as Washington's designated player. In just her third collegiate game, Hee hit two homers and drove in six.

Werre saw action in fi e games in 2018. Against Stanford, Werre ripped a double off the centerfield wall, her second career double in just 18 career at–bats.

Espinoza's pedigree entering college is unimpeachable. She was named a MaxPreps All–American and won two CIF championships during high school. She hit over .500 as a sophomore, junior, and senior, knocking 66 extra–base hits in 83 games over that time.

Quiñones was a hitting machine while at Mission Hills High School, with batting averages of .632 as a junior and .585 as a senior. After her junior year, she was named the league MVP, knocking 25 extra–base hits in 25 games. An All–Section selection, Quiñones also picked up a PGF title in her club time with Athletics.

As a freshman, Vandegrift helped White River High School to a second–place finish at sta e. After that, she only improved, earning All–League First Team three consecutive years. As a senior, Vandegrift earned All–Area First Team from the Seattle Times.

THE OUTFIELD

Fresh faces abound in the outfield grass or Washington this year, with three outfielde s returning from last year. Amirah Milloy will roam the outfield grass once again, while aija Gibson and Nawai Kaupe will split time between the infield and outfield. A talen ed bunch of youngsters join these veterans: freshmen Madison Huskey, Sami Reynolds, Livy Schiele, and Francesca Torraca join the Huskies with impressive pedigrees.

Gibson was a vital part of the Washington offense in 2018 in her primary role as a pinch–runner, scoring 13 runs in her 48 games. Gibson had two triples in just over a week at one point in the year as she took advantage of her opportunities at the plate. Defensively, Gibson served mostly as an outfielde , making zero errors.

Kaupe showed her predigious power as a freshman, slugging .492 as a part–time player off the bench. The Hawaiian hit four home runs in 65 at–bats, including two home runs on one day at the Mary Nutter Classic. Kaupe worked mostly at shortstop defensively, showing off her strong arm routinely.

Milloy rounded into an important part of the starting lineup as a junior, hitting .315/.376/.489 in her 48 games of action. Entering the year with just one extra–base hit, Milloy found her power stroke, launching ten doubles and two home runs. She had seven games with multiple RBI and ended the year with 20 RBI, as well as 20 runs scored. In the field, Milloy made only one error. On the basepaths, she went a perfect 4–for–4 in steals.

Huskey led in home runs last year, earning Player of the Year honors for California while playing at Gahr High School. She hit .436 in her high school career, highlighted by a .549 mark as a junior that included 50 hits and 53 RBI in just 26 games. In her club career, the Cerritos, Calif. native won multiple PGF tournaments, taking home the PGF Shootout title in 2016 after winning all of PGF in 2014.

With a state title to her name, Reynolds comes to Washington looking for more. She was a two–time All–Area First Team selection while at Snohomish High School. In each of her last three years of high school, Reynolds hit over .450, scoring a combined 108 runs over 71 games those years.

Schiele missed 2018 with injury while a freshman at Auburn and joins Washington with four years of eligibility. When she last played, in high school, Schiele showed her dominance at the plate, posting on–base percentages over .600 in three of her four years. That fourth year, as a senior, Schiele had a .588 OBP and hit 29 extra–base hits, scoring 45 runs and driving in 34 more.

Torraca is one of two members of the Puerto Rican National Team playing for Washington, alongside senior pitcher Taran Alvelo. The New Jersey native earned All–Conference honors all four years while at Immaculata. She reached 1000 career hits in less than three full years. This summer, Torraca won a Central American championship with Puerto Rico and competed at the Softball World Championship in Japan, taking fi th in the world.

TARAN ALVELO

Senior, Pitcher

Alvelo enters her senior season as one of the most dominant pitchers in program history, with her name already spread across all of Washington's records. She is among the top four active pitchers in all of the NCAA in wins, complete games, and strikeouts.

2018 ended with another smorgasbord of awards for Alvelo, who made her way onto the All-American Second Team, All-Region First Team, and All-Pac-12 First Team, as well as being named a USA Softball Collegiate Player of the Year finalist. That made it three consecutive years that Alvelo had been named to the All-Region and All-Pac-12 teams, making the All-Region Second Team in 2016 and 2017 and earning All-Pac-12 First Team honors in 2017 after making the Second Team in 2016. Alvelo was also the Pac-12's Co-Freshman of the Year in 2016.

Alvelo started 2018 on a 31.1-inning shutout streak, the longest by a Husky in over fi e years, and was undefeated in her fi st 16 games. She would record a win in each of her fi st ten appearances, the fi st Husky ever to do so. Against #9 Arizona, Alvelo would strike out a career-high 14 on Friday, then retire 20 in a row for a one-hit shutout on Sunday. Alvelo also shutout #12 Alabama to send the team to the WCWS and #4 Oklahoma to send the team to the Championship Series.

As a sophomore, Alvelo hit the ground running, earning wins over #2 Auburn and #1 Oklahoma in the fi st week of the season. Those performances, including a shutout of Oklahoma, earned Alvelo the fi st of her three Pac-12 Pitcher of the Week awards, as well as NFCA and ESPNW Player of the Week. Alvelo would throw her fi st career no-hitter in NCAA Regionals, against Montana.

Alvelo would led the team in almost every pitching category as a freshman. she earned four Pac-12 weekly honors: twice earning Pitcher of the Week and twice earning Freshman of the Week.

In her high school career, Alvelo rewrote the Ohio record book, setting new career records for home runs, strikeouts, and victories. Bloom-Carroll reached the state title game all four years of her career, with Alvelo earning the Mid-State League Player of the Year award every season. In her senior season, she struck out 404 batters in 186 innings.

AMIRAH MILLOY

Senior, Outfielde

Milloy's freshman and sophomore years saw her serve as an important cog on the Husky bench, pinch-running and providing defensive expertise in the outfield. She made five starts over those two years and 78 total appearances. On the basepaths, Milloy stole six bases combined in her fi st two years as a Husky. She would also score 29 runs in that time. In 2017, Milloy hit her fi st career home run, coming against Stanford in a 2-for-3 day.

Milloy's fi st career hit came on March 4 of her freshman year, against Boise State. She would also single in her fi st career start that year and, against Utah, scored a run in every game of the series.

Milloy had 12 extra-base hits, including two games with multiple doubles.

Before coming to Washington, Milloy earned plenty of accolades on the diamond. She earned All-KingCo Second Team (2015) and Honorable Mention (2014) awards, helping Redmond clinch a 4A league championship as a junior. Milloy played her club ball with Absolute Blast 18U Gold.

RACHEL OGASAWARA

Senior, Catcher

Rachel Ogasawara has been a constant part of Washington's success for three years now, providing leadership on the bench and excellent defense behind the plate. No matter her role, she has welcomed it with open arms, pushing her teammates to be their best and always coming ready to play.

Over her fi st two season, the Hawai'i native served mostly as Washington's backup catcher, making 24 appearances. In that time, Ogasawara did make six starts and hit a combined .300 with three extra-base hits.

No matter her role, she has welcomed it with open arms, pushing her teammates to be their best and always coming ready to play.

Last season, Ogasawara split time in the starting lineup with Emma Helm, making 17 starts and 22 total appearances. She had her fi st career multi-RBI game on the fi st day of the season, then followed that up with a perfect 2-for-2 day against Western Illinois the next day. Against New Mexico State, Ogasawara would double twice, the fi st time in her career she had recorded multiple extra-base hits in a single game.

Ogasawara hit her fi st career home run during a sophomore year that saw her record seven hits while playing catcher, designated player, and pinch-hitting. She homered against Indiana that year.

One of Washington's two Hawaiians, Ogasawara attended Kamehameha Schools Kapalama High School in Mililani, Hawai'i. She was a four-year starter on the varsity squad there. In 2013, Ogasawara guided the team to a Interscholastic League of Honolulu championship, earning All-Hawai'i Division I First Team honors, as well as ILH First Team. In 2014, she would be named to the Hawai'i High School Athletic Association All-Tournament Team.

2018 (Junior): Had her fi st career multi–RBI game against Saint Louis (Feb. 9)... went 2–for–2 with a run and an RBI against Western Illinois (Feb. 10)... had her fi st career game with multiple extra–base hits, doubling twice and scoring two runs against New Mexico State (March 9).

2017 (Sophomore): Played in 20 games, starting six... saw time at catcher, pinch hitter and designated player... knocked seven hits, four RBIs and three runs... went yard against Indiana (March 3).

2016 (Freshman): Made four appearances, going 2–for–3 with two runs.

BRITTANY WERRE

Senior, Infielde

Brittany Werre has embodied what it means to be a Husky on and off the field in her caree , demonstrating excellence in all walks of life. On the field, she has served primarily as a tough pinch-hitter for the Huskies, with 17 at-bats off the bench over her three years.

Last year, Werre would stroke the second double of her career, both in pinch-hit situations. That came against Stanford on the road, banging one off the wall for a two-bagger. In all, she would make fi e appearances, all as a pinch-hitter.

Werre has made one start in her Husky career, coming against UC Santa Barbara during her sophomore year. Overall, she hit .364 that season, the second-highest mark on the team. Werre scored the fi st two runs of her career that year as well.

As a freshman, Werre made her mark with a pinch-hit, two-run double, her fi st career hit.

A southern California native, Werre attended Mira Costa High School, lettering all four years and setting a new school record with 43 career doubles.

In her senior year, she hit .519 with a .936 sluggin percentage, recording 21 extra-base hits. That helped Werre earn All-CIF Southern Section First Team and Daily Breeze All-Area. Three times she was named to the All-Bay League First Team and, as a senior, she earned Most Outstanding Player for the league. Werre played club softball for SoCal Explosion.

Outside of softball, Werre has served as the president of the Washington Student-Athlete Council for two years, helping her fellow Huskies reach their fullest potential at Washington. She has also gone on service-learning trips with the Washington athletic department, building multipurpose athletic courts for rural villages.

2018 (Junior): Made her season debut as a pinch–hitter against Miami (OH) (Feb. 10)... ripped a pinch–hit double at Stanford (March 30)... also pinch–hit at Oregon State (May 6).

2016 (Freshman): Pinch hit twice in freshman season, recording fi st career hit, a double with two RBI against Weber State (March 13).

2018 SEASON IN REVIEW

The Washington Huskies began 2018 on an unprecedented roll, continuing that dominance throughout the season en route to a second–place finish at the Women's College World Series. The Huskies advanced to the championship round for the fourth time in program history and remained ranked in the nation's top fi e every week of the year, including nine weeks as the country's number one team.

Despite losing 2017's RBI leader for the year before the season's fi st game, Washington came together as a team and began on an impressive streak. The Huskies won 11 of their fi st 12 games by run–rule and would start the season with 28 consecutive wins, sweeping the non–conference schedule.

Washington's defense and pitching combined to suffocate opponents all season long. Only fi e times did the Huskies allow four or more runs in a game, including just two times allowing more than fi e runs. In contrast, the Huskies shut out the opposition 25 times, the ninth time in program history they have had at least 20 shutouts. That included Gabbie Plain's perfect game against Utah, just the second Husky freshman ever to throw a perfect game.

The Husky offense was just as impressive, finishing 2018 in the nation's top 25 scoring offenses. The Huskies scored in double–digits nine times.

In Pac–12 play, the Huskies fought hard against the nation's toughest conference. Washington record fi e Pac–12 series sweeps, tying the program record set in 1996. After a six–game losing streak at the hands of eventual WCWS teams UCLA and Oregon, Washington rattled off 11 straight wins, clinching victory in every postseason game en route to the championship series against Florida State. Washington swept its way through Regionals and Super Regionals in Seattle, then eliminated the nation's #4 and #1 seeds in Oklahoma City, sending Oklahoma and Oregon home.

The 2018 squad shut out opponents 25 times while only giving up four or more runs five times.

Washington ended the year with a staggering array of awards. The Huskies earned three All–American awards, 11 Pac–12 season–ending awards including the Defensive Player of the Year in Sis Bates, two NFCA Player of the Year finalists, a NFCA Freshman of the Year finalist, s ven NFCA All–Region awards, and seven Pac–12 All–Academic awards.

POSTSEASON PLAY
Washington made its 25th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance (1994–2018) and 14th straight under the leadership of head coach Heather Tarr. The Huskies made the Women's College World Series for the 13th time and the championship round for the fourth time, and now own an all–time postseason record of 113–51.

LEADER OF THE PACK
Washington was ranked in the nation's top fi e every week of the season, stretching their streak of consecutive weeks ranked in the top ten to 22. Washington has been ranked every week since the end of 2008, good for 163 weeks in a row in the polls. The Huskies also spent nine weeks ranked number one in the country, the fi st time Washington has reached that height since 2010.

NO RUNS ALLOWED
Washington's pitching staff gave up just 81 runs all year, finishing second in the nation in ERA at 1.18. None of Washington's four pitchers carried an ERA above 1.60, with that group combining for 31 shutouts in 63 games. The Huskies struck out 470 batters, the most by a Husky squad since 2010.

WITH AGE COMES EXCELLENCE
A special senior class finished their pl ying careers in the championship round, winning 50+ games for the second consecutive year. Washington's six seniors won 183 games in their four years, twice making it to the WCWS.

A PAIR OF ACES
Taran Alvelo and Gabbie Plain were both named All–Americans, giving Washington it's fi st duo of All–American pitchers since Jamie Graves and Jennifer Spediacci in 2000.

For Alvelo, it was the second straight year of 20+ wins and 200+ strikeouts. She was 15th in the country in ERA and had a career–best 11 shutouts. In addition to throwing the program's seventh perfect game, Plain was fourth in the country and fi st in the Pac–12 in ERA at 1.01.

NON–CONFERENCE? NO PROBLEM
For the fi st time in program history, the Huskies went undefeated in non–conference play in the regular season, including a 28–0 start to the year that saw them as one of the last two undefeated teams in the nation. Washington would end the year 37–2 in non–conference play including the postseason, with its only two losses to national champion Florida State. Over the last fi e years excluding postseason play, Washington has a .877 winning percentage in non–conference games.

BATES BATS (AND FIELDS!)
Sis Bates became the third Husky ever to win Pac–12 Defensive Player of the Year, joining Jenn Salling and Shawna Wright. Bates was also named an All–American for a stellar season that saw her record the highest Husky batting average in three years. Bates currently has the best fielding pe centage by a shortstop in Washington history, at .978.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE
After earning eight Pac–12 All–Academic honors in 2017, the Huskies picked up seven more in 2018. Washington has had at least seven All–Academic honorees for seven straight years now.

GOLDEN GLOVES
Washington led the Pac–12 in fielding pe centage with a .979 mark in 2018, making just 35 errors. That error total was the third–lowest in program history and just fi e off the record of 30, set in 52 games in 2014. Sis Bates and Taylor Van Zee were both named to the Pac–12's All–Defensive Team. Washington's starting infield made just our errors in 23 conference games, while the primary starting outfield made only t o in that time.

ALL-AMERICANS: ALPHABETICAL

ALI AGUILAR
2016 (2nd) • 2017 (3rd)

Aguilar started all 54 games for the Huskies at shortstop. She ended the season with a team leading 21 home runs and led the NCAA with 1.41 runs per game. Aguilar set program records for runs scored in a season (76) in 2016 and has started all but two games in her career.

TARAN ALVELO
2018 (2nd)

Alvelo began 2018 on a 31.1-inning shutout streak, ending the season with a 1.30 ERA, fourth-best in the Pac-12. She had 10 games with double-digit strikeouts, with a career-best 14 against Arizona on March 23. Alvelo's 242 strikeouts were in the nation's top 20 and fifth in the conference.

SIS BATES
2018 (1st)

Bates earned Pac-12 Defensive POY honors, finishing the year with four errors in 62 games. She led the Huskies with a .389 batting average and .471 OB, knocking 16 doubles, 3 triples, and 5 home runs. Bates would end the year with 53 runs scored, the fourth-most in the Pac-12, and stole 9 bases in 10 attempts.

TIA BOLLINGER
2001 (3rd) • 2003 (2nd)

The Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year in 2001, Bollinger posted a 36-8 overall record, tallying UW season records for wins and innings pitched (287.0). In 2003, Bollinger led UW to its sixth WCWS appearance and boasted a 28-9 mark and 1.32 ERA. She also set a UW record with 12 career saves.

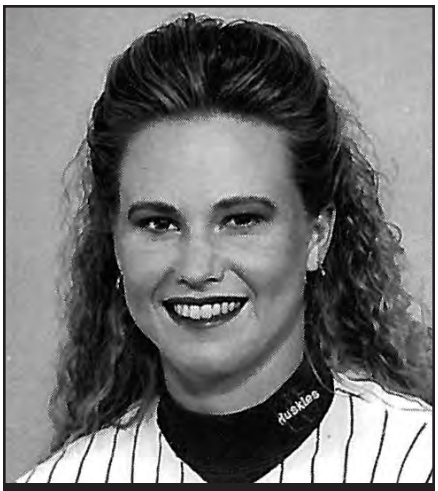
SHELLEY BROWN
1997 (2nd)

Rounding out her UW career with an All-American season in 1997, Brown batted .338 and led the team in both runs scored (54) and stolen bases (47). A four-year letterwinner, she earned All-Pac-10 honors in each of her four seasons and was the first Husky player to steal at least 100 bases in her career.

ASHLEY CHARTERS
2006 (3rd) • 2007 (2nd) • 2009 (1st)

Charters is Washington's career leader in stolen bases (133) and tied for the record in triples (16). She ranks second all-time in runs (215) and hits (315), third in average (.396), seventh in on base percentage (.464) and ninth in walks (92). She was twice named to the WCWS All-Tournament Team (2009, 2007)

ALL-AMERICANS: ALPHABETICAL



MICHELLE CHURCH
1996 (1st)

Holding down the corner spot at first base for the Huskies in each of the program's first 264 games, Church helped lead the Huskies to a spot in the NCAA title game in 1996, hitting a career best .369, while earning Pac-10 first team honors for the third time. Additionally, Church was the first Academic All-American in UW softball history.

JAIME CLARK
2002 (1st) • 2001 (3rd) • 2000 (2nd)

As a freshman in 2000, Clark led the nation in total bases (176), while ranking second in both home runs (23) and doubles (24). A year later, the two-time first team All-Pac-10 selection hit .379 with a team-best 52 RBIs. In 2002, Clark led the nation with 75 RBIs and ranked fifth with an .826 slugging percentage.

JENNIFER CLINE
1996 (2nd)

A of the cornerstone of the program, catcher Jennifer Cline earned a spot on the All-America second team as a senior in 1996. The four-time captain hit a career-best .394 with 71 RBI leading the Huskies to the 1996 NCAA title game. A three-time All-Pac-10 pick, Cline owned UW career records for RBIs (227), walks (175) and home runs (43).

HOOCH FAGALY
2014 (3rd)

In her senior season, Fagaly batted .346 with 45 hits, 29 runs, eight home runs and 34 RBI. Over 22 Pac-12 games, she batted .448 with four homers and 14 RBI, earning third team All-America from the NFCA and All-Pacific Region first-team. Fagaly played the entire season without committing an error in 310 chances, all at first base.

EVE GAW
1998 (3rd)

Gaw was a dominating pitcher throughout her four-year career posting a 69-17 record. As a senior, she changed her focus from defense to offense, earning All-American honors as a utility player, leading the Huskies in batting average (.345), RBI (37) and home runs (8), while playing first base. The four-time all-Pac-10 selection.

JAMIE GRAVES
1998 (2nd) • 1999 (2nd) • 2000 (1st)

A left-handed finesse pitcher, Jamie Graves finished her career in 2000 with six UW season and career records, earning Pac-10 first team honors three times. Graves, along with classmate Jennifer Spediacci, helped the UW to the nation's second-best team ERA in both 1999 and 2000.

KELLY HAUXHURST
2001 (3rd)

A clutch team player, Hauxhurst made her senior year her best, leading the UW in batting (.386) and hits (73), while reaching base in 57 of 63 games. Hauxhurst started 268 career games in the outfield and garnered NCAA Regional All-Tournament accolades three straight seasons from 1998-2000.

VICTORIA HAYWARD
2014 (1st)

In her senior season, Victoria Hayward led the Pac-12 with 28 stolen bases and led the Huskies with a .408 batting average. A first-team All-Conference honoree, the speedy outfielder started all 52 games and led Washington in at-bats (157), runs (47), hits (64) and steals (28).

KAITLIN INGLESBY
2012 (2nd) • 2013 (1st)

Earning second team honors in her sophomore season, Inglesby was named first team All-American as a junior, finishing the season with a record of 23-9 with two saves and compiling an ERA of 1.95 with 141 strikeouts. The right handed pitcher also excelled at the plate, finishing second on the team with a .354 batting average and 63 hits.

KYLEE LAHNERS
2014 (3rd)

Lahners finished her junior season ranked No. 14 in the nation in RBI with 1.17 per game. Her team-leading 61 runs batted in ranked number four in the Pac-12 while her team-leading 17 homers tied for 22nd in the NCAA. Lahners, who batted .346 with 53 hits, started all 52 games, 34 at third base and 18 in right field.

DOMINIQUE LASTRAPES
2004 (3rd) • 2006 (3rd)

Just the fifth true freshman in Husky history to be named an All-American, Lastrapes posted a .371 average with 75 hits, 10 doubles and 20 RBI. She led UW with a .565 post-season average, including 10 hits in her first 10 at-bats to earn the All-Regional Tournament MVP award. In 2006, she led the team with 39 runs and .500 slugging percentage.

DANIELE LAWRIE
2007 (1st) • 2009 (1st) • 2010 (1st)

One of the most accomplished pitchers in college softball history, Lawrie set school records in nearly every pitching category and was named National Player of the Year two consecutive years (2010, 2009), the first UW athlete to take home Player of the Year honors twice. She holds the career record in wins, strikeouts, shutouts, appearances, starts, complete games and innings.

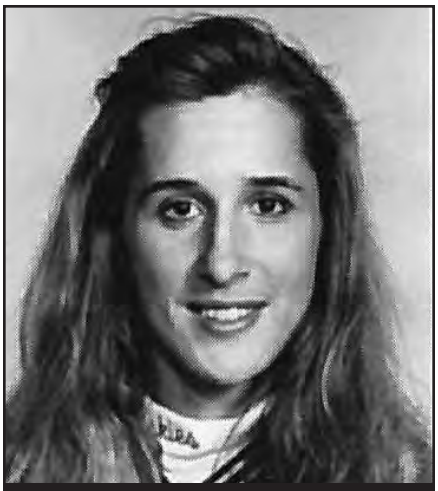
ROSIE LEUTZINGER
1998 (3rd)

Leutzinger, a three-time All-Pac-10 selection, led the Huskies in five offensive categories in 1998, including at-bats (212), hits (68) and stolen bases (35). Splitting time between shorstop and the outfield, Leutzinger hit a career-best .351 and led the nation in doubles (25) in 2000.



ANGIE MARZETTA
1994 (3rd)

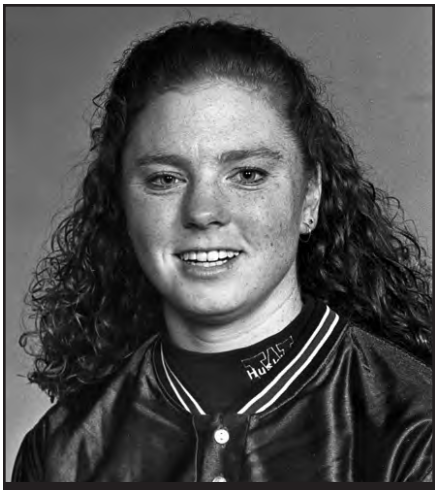
The program's first All-American and first inductee into the Husky Hall of Fame, Marzetta made the most of her two-year career, hitting .364 with 36 stolen bases in 1994. Marzetta's .472 batting average, 94 hits and 59 stolen bases in 1993 are all Husky season records.

HEATHER MEYER
1996 (1st)

As a transfer, Meyer helped pitch the Huskies into the 1996 NCAA title game, just a year after an injury limited her to 19 games in her first season at the UW. In 1996, Meyer led the Pac-10 in ERA (1.23), allowing only 33 runs in 188.2 innings, while striking out 148 on her way to earing All-Pac-10 honors in 1996.

BECKY NEWBRY
1996 (3rd) • 1997 (2nd) • 1999 (1st)

The program's first three-time All-American, Becky Newbry was a utility player in the truest sense, starting at every position on the field except pitcher during her four-year career from 1996-99. Originally a walk-on, Newbry hit .436 with 92 hits, 55 RBI and 25 stolen bases as a senior.



SARA PICKERING
1996 (1st) • 1997 (1st)

The NCAA career leader in doubles, the second baseman started a UW record 271 games from 1994-97, collecting 319 hits and batting over the .400 mark twice. Pickering earned first team all-Pac-10 honors in each of her final three seasons. She still holds UW career records in games played, games started, hits, doubles and sacrifice flies.

GABBIE PLAIN
2018 (3rd)

Plain ended her freshman year with the fourth-best ERA in the country at 1.01. She had eight shutouts, including a perfect game against Utah. Plain was the first Husky in program history to throw 100+ innings and allow fewer than 100 hits and the fourth Husky freshman ever to win 20+ games.

ALL-AMERICANS: ALPHABETICAL

KRISTEN RIVERA
2002(2nd) • 2003(1st) • 2004(1st) • 2005 (1st)

Washington's only four-time All-American, Rivera tied for the national leader in home runs (25) in 2003. She holds the UW career records for home runs (79), and ranks second all-time in RBI (223), slugging percentage (.812) and on-base percentage (.523). She is the only Husky to ever win the Pac-10 Player of the Year award (2004 and 2005).

JENN SALLING
2010 (1st) • 2011 (2nd)

Salling has etched her name into the top-10 in several categories; batting average (.342), triples (7), walks (97), slugging percentage (.543), on-base percentage (.474) and hit by pitch (9). As a senior in 2011, Salling hit .374 with 43 RBI and six homers. She was named the Female Athlete of the Year at the WESPYs for her efforts.

KIMBERLEE SOUZA
2016 (1st)

A first-team selection as a utility player, Souza garnered her first career All-American honor after a breakout senior season. The Waialua, Hawai'i native boasted career highs in every offensive category, including batting average (.346), runs (34), home runs (13), runs batted in (59), on base percentage (.449) and slugging percentage (.667).

JENNIFER SPEDIACCI
1998 (2nd) • 2000 (1st)

Excelling on the field and in the classroom, Spediacci became the first UW pitcher to record 100 career wins. The Pac-10 Pitcher of the Year and Honda Award nominee in 2000, Spediacci combined with classmate Jamie Graves to lead the UW to four straight Women's College World Series appearances.

JENNY TOPPING
2000 (1st)

In her first full collegiate season, Topping hit her way into the NCAA record books in 2000, leading the nation in home runs (24), RBI (90) and slugging percentage (.960). The left-hand hitting Topping earned Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year honors and slugged a school record four grand slams.

DENA TYSON
2007 (1st)

In her senior season, Tyson led the Huskies in batting (.399), HR (18), RBI (50), slugging percentage (.791), walks (41) and on-base percentage (.536). Her 18 home runs were second in the Pac-10 and 12th nationally. She earned three Pac-10 Player of the Week honors and was named the USA Softball National Player of the Week once.

ALL-AMERICANS: ALPHABETICAL

NIKIA WILLIAMS
2010 (1st) • 2011 (2nd)

In 2010, Williams started all 59 games, batting .357 while collecting 61 hits in 171 at bats with 11 home runs, one triple, seven doubles and 47 RBI. Williams was a Top 25 finalist for ASA Player of the Year in 2011 and was named team co-offensive MVP with Kimi Pohlman. She was named first team All-Pac-10 and All-Pacific Region.

NOTES ON RESULTS & CONFERENCE STANDINGS

Softball was added to the Pac-12 (then Pac-8) in 1987. The University of Washington added softball as a varsity sport in 1993.

Prior to 2012 the Pac-12 Conference was known as the Pac-10 Conference.

The 1994 season was the first year Washington was eligible for post-season play.

In 1998 Southwest Louisiana became Louisiana-Lafayette. In 2016 they became Louisiana.

In 1998 Northeast Louisiana became Louisiana-Monroe.

In 2003 Southwest Texas became Texas St.

In 2005 Southwest Missouri St. became Missouri St.

In 2006 the regular and conference season was limited to 56 games. Prior to this there were no limits on season game totals.

In 2010 the Pony/Kia Classic was renamed the Judi Garmin Classic.

University of Utah was added to the conference in 2012. Prior head-to-head contests are not counted as conference results.
